Web Developer and Designer leveraging 10+ years of extensive experience in creative design, digital marketing, development, concepting and problem solving from initial idea to final implementation.

Education stemming from Southern Methodist University along with years of collaborating with various smart and talented colleagues and teams within the structure of large successful corporations. I am knowledgeable and proficient in a wide range of front-end development skills including HTML, CSS, Javascript and jQuery.

Design and development has been a passion for me for a long time and I am still always learning. I am constantly inspired by new technologies, design patterns and the potential of what can be created with creativity, talent and collaboration.

Authorized to work in the US for any employer
